THREE BANDITS HANGED AT CHICAGO

Niedermeier Refused to Stand and Was Hanged Sitting.

The Other Two Professed Religion—
Had Killed Many Men in Their Time.

TWO OF THEM DIED GAME

Chicago, Ill., April 22—Peter Niedermeier, Harvey Van Dine and Gustav Marx, the car barn bandits, paid the penalty of many crimes on the gallows today. Niedermeier refused to the last to accept religious consolation, the others accepted religion and were resigned to their fate.

Niedermeier was the first executed. He was carried to the gallows, and refusing to stand was placed in a chair, which fell with him when the drop fell at 10:35. Physicians said his neck was broken but it was several minutes before he was pronounced dead.

Marx came next and walked unaided. The drop fell at 11:17. The body fell heavily and the convulsions lasted two minutes. Death ensued in six minutes. Marx did not speak on the gallows, and carried the crucifix before him. Physicians expressed the opinion that his neck was broken.

Van Dine was the last of the "automatic trio," who faced death. He walked to the scaffold, stood unaided and the drop fell 11:55 1/2.

Death was almost instantaneous, his neck being broken. Marx and Van Dine took an affectionate leave of each other before the former left his cell. Both prayed continuously during their walk to the scaffold and while the noose was being adjusted.

Eight murders were committed by the desperadoes, all of whom were about 21 years old. Niedermeier, the leader of the gang, before his execution, confessed to having killed five additional men whose names he did not know. The crimes are characterized by an entire absence of any moral sense.

CRIMES OF THE BANDITS.

July 9—Otto Bauer killed in saloon.

August 1—Adolph Jensen and B. C. La Gross killed in saloon.

August 30—Frank W. Stuart and James E. Johnson killed in the car barns.

November 20—Detective John Quinn killed by Marx.

November 27—J. L. Sovea, a brakeman, killed at Liverpool, Ind. and Detective John F. Driscoll shot and mortally wounded in the fight near Indiana dugout.

Van Dine, Niedermeier and Marx were tried for the murder of Frank Stewart at the Chicago city railroad car barns. James E. Johnson also was killed in the raid on the barns and two persons were wounded.

The car barn robbery, by which the three bandits secured $2,240, was long and deliberately planned. Stewart was shot without warning as he sat at his desk. Johnson was killed as he arose from a bench where he had been sleeping. The wounded men were left for dead and the bandits escaped without leaving a clew.

The capture of the trio was due to the boastfulness of Marx, who when under the influence of liquor, displayed a magazine revolver. When located in a north side saloon, November 20, by Detectives Quinn and Blau, Marx shot and killed Quinn and attempted to shoot Blau. Marx then made a full confession, implicating Van Dine, Niedermeier and Rooski. All three were captured November 27, after a desperate battle in the Indiana sand dunes, where they killed two more men.

Emil Rooski, who was with the bandits in the dugout, and who participated in many of their crimes, was tried separately.

Sept. A. H. Egan and Roadmaster F. L. Thompson, of the Louisville division of the I. O., were in the city today on business.

PRETTY PRISONER UNDER ARREST

Mrs. Jessie Lynn Charged With Grand Larceny.

Is Alleged to Have Taken Diamond
Brooch and Money at Mrs.
Rook's.

THE CASE NOT YET TRIED

Mrs. Jessie Lynn, an attractive young woman, is under arrest here charged with having stolen a $75 diamond brooch and $4.50 in cash from Mrs. Wilmoth Rook, who has a boarding house at Fifth and Clark streets, and $10 in cash from the trunk of Mr. B. J. Adler, a boarder at Mrs. Rook's house.

The suspect came to the boarding house Thursday a week ago with her husband, who said he traveled for a big New York house. Nothing was learned about them except when the woman once remarked she had been playing the races at Memphis just before she came here. Her husband left the city Thursday night and she remained until yesterday when she said she was going to Wartrace, Tenn., to meet her husband who had written he was ill. Mrs. Rook missed the diamond brooch and money Monday, and Thursday the $10 was missed from Mr. Adler's trunk. She suspected the woman but did not do anything until she saw the suspect preparing to leave and then notified the police of the theft and the arrest followed.

Mrs. Rook stated this morning that the Lynn woman was seen go into her desk, where the $4.50 was stolen, and her pocketbook where the money was kept was heard to click as if being closed. The brooch was taken from Mrs. Rook's room but no one saw her there. Mrs. Rook is holding the woman's belongings and will have them searched this afternoon by the police.

The case was docketed this morning in police court, but not tried. The woman is being held, pending an investigation and will probably be given a hearing tomorrow morning.

Mrs. Lynn, the prisoner, was seen at the city hall this morning and denied taking the brooch or money and stated she had been thoroughly searched by Mrs. Rook and her trunk and belongings had been thoroughly searched by Chief Collins and Mrs. Rook, and nothing was found.

She stated that her home was about five miles out of Louisville and the reason she was leaving town was to go to her husband who was seriously ill. Originally she intended to remain here until June 14 when she would join her husband in St. Louis after he had worked his territory. He sells polish for use on fire department apparatus.

Attorney J. Wheeler Campbell was secured by Mrs. Lynn and an attempt is being made to have Mrs. Rook dismiss the prosecution. Mrs. Lynn did not desire any publicity but now that the matter has come to such a serious point, stated she would like to make a statement and place herself in the right light. She says the desk Mrs. Rook keeps in the hall is for the use of the boarders and is used by them. Further that she had been in the desk but once and this was to get a book and that other boarders had been using it more than she had. She says never once saw the brooch and did not know whether Mrs. Rook had a private room or not.

Mrs. Rook refused to let the prosecution drop a d this afternoon Mrs. Lynn was placed under guard, Officer Farrow being selected to guard her, and will be tried tomorrow. Her case is puzzling the police while some do not believe her guilty, there is considerable circumstantial evidence against her.

RUSSIANS DRIVEN BACK WITH LOSS

Hundreds Drowned in Their Mad Flight on the Yalu.

Meagre News of a Land Battle—Alex-ieff's Resignation Not Accepted Yet.

PORT ARTHUR IS BLOCKADED

London, April 22.—A special dispatch to the Times from New Chwang states that a messenger from the Yalu reports Japanese outposts near the Russian entrenchments, with large bodies five miles distant.
The Russians are fleeing north across the river in overcrowded boats, losing hundreds by drowning.

CORRESPONDENTS SILENCED.

London, April 22.—The Times states that newspaper correspondents accredited to the Russian forces, who left for Mukden, had to bind themselves not to divulge any news respecting the results of managements with the enemy or the losses suffered by Russians.

FIRE AT NAVY YARD.

St. Petersburg, April 22.—Fire at the Nevsky Naval ship building yards

Friday destroyed a number of important plans.

RESIGNATION NOT ACCEPTED.

Brelin, April 22.—Morgan repeats the report that Admiral Alexieff the Russian viceroy in the far east has resigned his resignation to the czar.
The paper gives as a reason for the resignation the fact that General
Kuropatkin has mercilessly criticized Alexieff's preparations for a campaign.

LAND ENGAGEMENTS.

Soual, April 22.—Strong rumors are current here of a land engagement near the mouth of the Yalu, the result of which is unknown.

Russian scouts reached Puk Ching,
a hundred miles north of Won Son, evidently with the idea of making a demonstration against the latter place, hoping to draw the Japanese force in that direction, but a superior Japanese force met the Russians and caused them to retire.

Both armies are using the same tactics in eastern as on western Korean coast.

PORT ARTHUR DOOMED.

Tokio, April 22—Port Arthur is now undoubtedly effectively blocked, and events are now culminating around that doomed fortress.

Japanese soldiers at Seoul say they believe Port Arthur has fallen, but no official report has been received. Only sixty Russian cavalry reached Song Ching. The appearance of the Russians in that region is of no consequence to the Japanese, who seem purposely to ignore the northeastern mountainous district.

The Russian cavalry, after burning Japanese houses at Song Ching, occupying the Korean telegraph office and causing trouble among the natives by their demands for provisions, proceeded to Puk Chun, about 65 miles to the south.

LIVED THREE DAYS WITH BROKEN BACK

Max Garrett, of Paducah, fell from 100 Foot Trestle.

He assisted Companions to draw him to the trestle again.

DETAILS OF DEATH RECEIVED

Relatives of Mr. Maxwell Garrett, the painter who was killed in Beaumont, Tex., several months ago, have ordered the remains brought here and it is presumed they will arrive within the next few days.

Full details of the accident which caused Garrett's death were not received until yesterday when Mr. Robert McCune, the sign writer, received a letter from friends in Beaumont telling of the remarkable vitality of Garrett, and how he fought against death for three days and finally succumbed from injuries which ordinarily would have proven fatal instantly.

Garrison and two companions were riding on a freight train and Garrison had started to show one of the men how to get off the train. It was night and the train was passing over a five mile trestle, one hundred feet high and Garrison lost his balance falling to the ground below. He broke his back but did not lose consciousness. His companions went to town, secured a hand car and rope and with the aid of several railroad men pulled Garrison up and took him to a hospital.

Garrison, although lying with a broken back, tied the rope about his waist and held on while his companions, one hundred feet above, pulled him up.

He never lost consciousness until he was on top of the trestle again and when taken to the hospital was placed in a plaster cast, but died three days later. The accident happened on the night of October 10 and he died on the night of the 13th.

His companions did not know his name, it seems, and could not notify his relatives of the sad death, and it was only by chance that it was learned here.

DIED IN VIRGINIA

YOUNG MAN WHO LIVED IN PADUCAH FOR SEVERAL MONTHS EXPIRES.

Mr. Basye Davenport, of Virginia, a nephew of Mrs. John George, of South Fourth street, died a few days ago at his home in Virginia. He was about 25 years old, and had many friends in Paducah, having been employed in the pumping station here of the water company in the winter of 1902. His death came as a great surprise to his relatives in Paducah.

Mrs. P. L. Strickland is visiting in Central City.

NO STEMMING.

IMPERIAL COMPANY WAITING FOR INSTRUCTIONS FROM ENGLAND.

The Imperial Tobacco Company, which has a factory at Fifth and Clay streets, has stopped stemming tobacco temporarily on account of a proposed tax pending in the British parliament on strips. The local factory, which is under the management of Mr. Clarence Martin, has been buying a great deal of tobacco lately, and is about the only concern that has bought to any extent in this section.

No more tobacco, as stated, will be stemmed until the agents in England are heard from. It will be prized in bundles with the stems to avoid payment of the new tax on strips, and it is probable that if the bill passes, all tobacco sent to Great Britain from this country will be sent with stems.

A TESTIMONIAL.

YARDMASTER McMAHON TO BE GIVEN A BANQUET.

The trainmen employed in the local I. C. yards are preparing to give Mr. M. F. McMahon, who has just resigned as general yardmaster here, a big banquet just before he returns to Chicago, and the function will probably be arranged for tonight. Mr. McMahon is generally popular with the men here and has been undoubtedly one of the best yardmasters ever in authority here.

TWO PLAYERS HAVE JUMPED THE GAME

Bateman and Nippert Go to Ohio to Play.

Manager Ray Says it Will Not Hurt the Paducah Team, However.

CLUB LEAVES FOR EVANSVILLE

Nippert, catcher, and Bateman, third baseman, have deserted the Paducah K. I. T. league team, and have gone to Coshocton, O., to work with an independent team this season.

Nippert and Bateman have been playing together for several years and are fast players. They were secured here by hard work on the part of Manager Ray and yesterday when he learned they both intended abandoning the team, asked them why they were doing it.

The team will not be crippled by the departure of these two players, however. Land will do the catching and Violet will play first base. Brady will go to left field and Girard will play third base. Freeman will play in right field some and pitchers will be worked not only in the box but in the field also. Manager Ray says that Paducah will not be crippled in her team and that just as fast ball can be played with the present team.

The team left this afternoon for Evansville on the Fowler and will tomorrow play the first game. Sunday and Monday games will be played and after these three have been played the team will return home. Manager Ray intends to bring home several scalps.

According to the local management the absconding players stated that they had been urged to leave Paducah and join by one of the league officers, and the matter will be taken up at once. Their reason for leaving was that they had been told the Paducah association was uncertain financially. They cannot be prevented from playing ball because of their jumping the team, however, as they have gone to an independent club.

The following additional players under contract to Cairo were wired tickets with instructions to report on the 23d. Both are pitchers, the first being recommended by Rutledge as a wonder. Charles Vitrolf, of Evansville, and H. D. Daubs, of St. Louis.

There will be four excursions run into Cairo Sunday, May 1, on account of the baseball game. One each from Paducah, Poplar Bluff, Jonesboro, Ark., and Murphysboro.

A telegram was received in Cairo from Perry Wilder and Lou Rutledge stating that they had received their tickets and would report at Cairo by Saturday.

CITY MUST BORROW MONEY TO TIDE OVER

Mayor Recommends Prompt Action in Bond Issue Matter.

Council's Action Ratified in a Large Number of Things Last Night.

MEETING OF THE ALDERMEN

Alderman Singleton was the only member absent when the board of aldermen held its regular session last night. Much of the work transacted was a ratification of the action of the councilmanic board in various things.

The mayor reported that city money had become exhausted and the city would have to get money to run until the next taxes come in, which will be after June 1. The finance committee was authorized to borrow money. There was yesterday only about $2,200 on hand while last night's bills alone amounted to $4,200. The city will now have to borrow until after June 1.

The board of aldermen declined to officially recognize the Lawrence's visit, or to make any arrangement for any kind of a reception.

The matter of having the city hall roof repaired was referred to the public improvement committee.

The petition of the First Baptist church to be allowed to pay its assessment for street paving on the ten year plan was referred; City Solicitor Ed Puryear was instructed to look after the city's interest in the suit to force a settlement of the estate of the late J. M. Gilbert.

The bid of Acree & Niemann for building the new fire station for $3,642 was ratified and the bond accepted.

The signed statement made by the city and the street contractor regarding their dispute about placing concrete between the street car ties on the streets being paved, was filed. It is simply a denial by the contractor that he has to do the work under the contract, and an assertion by the city that he is required to do it without extra pay.

The mayor recommended that early action be taken in floating the $200,000 in bonds the court of appeals has just decided are valid.

The proposition of White & Co., New York, to take up the $25,000 shop bonds at 4½ per cent was accepted.

Miscellaneous bills amounting to $4,200 were allowed.

The following ordinances asked by the board of public works were given second passage: One prohibiting the sweeping of trash or other filth or refuse on pavements, streets or alleys; for preventing the free flow of water in any gutter; for failing to repair and keep repaired sidewalks inside the city of Paducah; prohibiting anyone letting fall from a wagon or other vehicle any kind of offal or trash onto the streets, etc., and for depositing trash of any description on public grounds.

The ordinance increasing the health officer's salary from $250 to $600 a year was given first passage.

It was ordered that the water mains be extended between Clark and Jackson on South 12th.

The matter of placing a new roof on Central fire station was referred.

The application of Frank Waggoner for a coffee house license at 1810 Bridge street was referred back to the license committee, a protest accompanying the application.

J. R. Gray's prayer for relief from overassessment was referred.

A Denker's saloon license was transferred from 1133 Harrison to 12th and Harrison; W. P. Carter's license at Ninth and Trimble was transferred to George Myrick.

Twenty-five dollars was ordered refunded the Ferguson-Palmer company for license paid and not required of them.

The $1,800 compromise in the $10,000 bond suit against the city was ratified.

Several cemetery deeds were ratified, and the bond of Dr. Garber, milk and meat inspector, was ratified.

The following matters were referred to the board of public works: Request for a light at the end of Bridge street for a watering trough at 13th and Tennessee street; matter of the city's repairing drain pipes near Tyler, Ky.

The matter of having storm water sewerage built on Broadway between Fifth and Sixth was referred to the board of public works with power to act.

The improvement of the alley between 10th, 11th, Jones and Norton streets was ordered.

In regard to the floating of the bonds just legalized by the court of appeals, the matter was referred to the joint finance committee, the mayor, solicitor and chairmen of the two boards, and will be taken up at once it is understood.

President Reed said that he thought the storm water sewerage should be put down at once, and City Engineer Washington concurred in the opinion, saying that it should be done six months or longer before the street paving is done, in order that the ground might settle. The first thing to do, however, is to decide what streets are going to be paved, and this was left to the board of public works.

ABOUT 200 TO GO TO CARBONDALE NEXT TUESDAY—DEANS' BAND GOES.

All arrangements for the big Odd Fellows' inter-state meeting at Carbondale, Ill., on the 26th, have been employed by the local lodges, and Paducah will be well represented, the delegation being headed by Dean's band of eighteen pieces.

The contract for the music was closed today and if the local band captures the prize of $100 for the best band, a division will be made with the local lodges. Prof. Dean has downed all bands at these inter-state meetings for years and anticipates no trouble in repeating his former victories.

The train carrying the local delegation will leave the union depot on the morning of the 26th at 6:45 o'clock and will return that night late. Rates have been made by the railroad company and it is likely over two hundred excursionists will be taken out of the city.

CARNIVAL NEWS.

MEETING OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE THIS EVENING.

A meeting of the executive committee of the Carnival association will be held this evening. It is likely that from now on preparations for the spring show will be lively.

A promoter is expected Monday for the Mundy company, and Monday morning Mr. Will Utterback will leave for the I. C. road to put out paper.

Other men will go out on other roads for the purpose of having the affair well advertised.

The banners and streamers are being painted and will probably be ready to put on the boats and across streets by Monday.

The badges for the committee are also on the way here and will be distributed shortly. The booth committee will start out today to try to wind up its work.

GOOD SPIRITS.

Good spirits don't all come from Kentucky. Their main source is the liver—and all the fine spirits ever made in the Blue Grass state could not remedy a bad liver or the hundred and one ill effects it produces. You can't have good spirits and a bad liver at the same time. Your liver must be in fine condition if you would feel buoyant, happy and hopeful, bright of eye, light of step, vigorous and successful in your pursuits. You can put your liver in fine condition by using Green's August Flower—the greatest of all medicines for the liver and stomach, and a certain cure for dyspepsia or indigestion. It has been a favorite household remedy for over 35 years. August Flower will make your liver healthy and active and thus insure you a liberal supply of "good spirits." Trial size, 25c; regular bottles, 75c. For sale by DuBois, Kolb & Co.

STRIKED BY TRAIN

NEAR PRINCETON

Glass Bennett, Colored, Died Here From Injuries.

Attempted to Cross in Front of the Train When His Wagon Was Struck.

ACCIDENT HERE IN SHOPS

Glass Bennett, colored, was struck by an I. C. train at Princeton yesterday afternoon about 1 o'clock and sustained fatal injuries, dying six hours later.

Bennett was driving in a wagon and in attempting to cross ahead of a train was struck. He was thrown out, a leg and arm broken, seven ribs fractured, his skull fractured and back hurt, and he never regained consciousness. The negro was brought to the hospital at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon and before any treatment could be rendered expired. The remains were taken to Nance & Spaulding's, and will be held for instructions from Princeton relative to disposing of the body.

Mr. Eugene White, a machine operator employed in the local I. C. shops, met with serious accident yesterday in the woodworking shops.

He was working with a small planing machine when he got his left hand in the blades. The flesh from the base of the little finger to the wrist was taken off and the bone laid bare. The accident occurred so quick that White could not realize what had happened. He was taken to the railroad hospital where the injury was dressed.

STOLE COINS

POSTOFFICE INSPECTOR INVESTIGATING ALLEGED THEFT OF WORLD'S FAIR COINS.

De Soto, Mo., April 22—Postoffice Inspector Benson created a sensation in De Soto today when he began to investigate the cause of the selling of numerous pieces of world's fair souvenir gold coins here at less than the regular price. He found 23 of them in the hands of parties, merchants, business men and clerks, who had purchased them at prices from $1 to $2 the regular price being $8. It seems that in January of this year in a wreck that occurred on the Illinois Central below East St. Louis a mail car was badly wrecked and burned, and among the registered mail was a package containing about 175 pieces of the souvenir dollars that were mailed to a place in Louisiana. The package was not recovered. Enough has been discovered to indicate that the souvenir coins were sent here by some one who had either stolen them or found them at the time of the wreck. Arrests will soon be made, as the clews found point almost direct to the parties.

AND MOST OF THE VISITORS HAVE LEFT THE CITY NOW.

The gun club tournament ended yesterday with a good day's sport. The visitors this time were not numerous but the tournament was socially a success.

In the tie for the professional high average Spencer and Money shot and Spencer got 93 out of 100 and Money got 97, the cup being given to Money.

Mose Starr got the amateur high average.

There were thirteen entries in the live bird match. Guy Ward, the 18 year old boy of Reelfoot, Tenn., and Tom Sanders of Paducah, made straight scores. Nobody made a straight score in the 25-bird event. Money, Mose Starr, P. C. Ward and James Armstrong got 24 each.

PADUCAH'S LAWSUITS.

It appears to be about time for the city of Paducah to retire from the law business—or rather to resolve to take nothing else into the courts. When did the city ever win a suit? Yesterday the court of appeals decided another case against the taxpayers. The city must now pay for printing a list of tax bills that was never printed, because the city officials whose duty it is to simply make or enforce the laws, try to usurp the prerogative of others and interpret them, and refused to turn over the list to the public printer to print. The list was not printed, but the printer demanded it and was entitled to it, and the city refused to produce. The amount that will have to be paid over without any value being received by the city will be simply one of the many little costs of putting men in office who do not know their business.

When the question first came up the city solicitor, Attorney J. M. Worton, said to the mayor and other city officials that the charter provision was clear, that the tax lists had to be printed, and that the public printer was entitled to print them, and if not Alderman Durrett takes a position in permitted to do it, the city would have to pay for it just the same. He said the law might not be a good one, but it was a legislative act just the same, and the local boards could not change it, and must conform to it until it was repealed. The local lawmakers in the exuberance of their stupidity, decided that they knew more law than the city solicitor, and refused the list. Now the city must pay the bill just the same. The general council even went a stepfurther and actually passed an ordinance to repeal a charter provision and publish the tax list only once! There appears to be little hope for the poor taxpayers when such able lawyers get charge of the machinery of government. Only a few days ago the city had to pay $1800 because a council a few years ago didn't happen to know as much as it thought it did. It is apparently a good time for the city to eschew litigation.

STREET RECONSTRUCTION.

The board of public works will doubtless soon get right on the question of street paving. The only question that will really have to be settled in this connection is whether or not the paving of the streets out of the bond issue is "original construction" or "reconstruction."

In fact, no petition is necessary under the law for either original constructions, or reconstruction, if two-thirds of both boards vote for it—except where the original construction is to be from brick, asphalt or other expensive material. When it is proposed to construct a new street of costly material, the law gives the property owners the absolute right to say whether it shall be done or not.

The greatest proof that the proposed paving in Paducah is to be "reconstruction," however, is the fact that the city is going to pay half the cost, and voted $150,000 bonds for the purpose. If it is original construction, as some of the officials profess to believe, then the city cannot pay any of the costs. The city has no right to pay out a nickel for original street construction and the $150,000 voted for the streets would have to be retained intact.

It is probable, however, that when the question comes up, it will have been made plain to the members of the various boards that all they have to do is to select the streets and order the paving done.*

Alderman Durrett seems to have recovered from his predicament of not knowing whether to resign as alderman or as assistant at the light plant. The administration, which is justly fond of Alderman Durrett, who is a pleasant fellow and one of our best aldermen, thinks he can hold both jobs. If he can Alderman Durrett may be congratulated, for there is always more incentive for a man to give his city the very best service when he is drawing a nice salary.

Alderman Durrett's position is correct when he says he was not elected to any office, for no such office exists as that of assistant at the light plant. He was merely employed by the Board of Public Works to act as engineer, or assistant, at the plant. Hence the law which prohibits a person's holding two positions at the same time does not apply. Just to set the administration right, however, it might be asked how about the law which prohibits any city official being interested directly or indirectly with any contract with the city? When

IMPORTANT CASE

ILLINOIS SUPREME COURT DECIDES INSURANCE QUESTION.

Springfield, Ill., April 22.—In the case of the Supreme Lodge of the Knights and Ladies of Honor, the State Supreme court entered a decision to the effect that a husband cannot become the beneficiary of life insurance carried on the life of his wife if he has murdered her. The Knights and Ladies of Honor contested the payment of a $1,000 insurance policy upon the life of Mrs. Elizabeth Menkhausen deceased, on the ground that her husband had been convicted of her murder. Menkhausen is now serving a life sentence in Joliet. The Supreme court holds that Menkhausen is barred from participation in the benefits of the policy, but that his children are entitled to the insurance.

NOT EASY

SHOP MEN SUBJECTED TO MANY DANGERS AT WORK.

"Did you ever consider the danger we railroad people are subjected to while working around the yards here and in the boiler making shops?" a machinist asked this morning as a news reporter stood watching several boiler makers at work taking bolts from a tank.

"Well, we sometimes are in as much danger as we would be with some one shooting at us with a pistol. These tank men while hammering away with their sledges driving chisels hammers through the heads of bolts, often strike the bolt too hard after it has been cut half through, and frequently the head will fly for several hundred yards, and when it strikes you, it certainly makes its presence felt. It was only a few days ago that a bolt head struck me in the leg and cut through my pants, underwear and went into my flesh. The wound was very painful and probably as serious as if inflicted by a small caliber pistol."

"Some time ago a sliver from the head of a blacksmith's hammer flew off and embedded itself in the neck of a blacksmith across the shop. The young man came near dying from the wound, the sliver going into the wind pipe, and all goes to show the danger the shop man is subject to daily and which you never think about while you stand and watch him work. He is particularly in danger of having his eye badly hurt or put out."

NO DECISION.

RAILROAD COMMISSION TO MEET AT MAYFIELD SOON.

The Kentucky Railroad Commission which met at Louisville with Commissioners O. C. McChord and Mc. D. Ferguson decided in regard to the question of a new depot for Mayfield that the commission meet at Mayfield in the early half of next week with a representative of the Illinois Central Railroad and settle finally the question at that time. The day of the meeting will be decided later.

The other questions considered were of no importance. Mr. Ferguson arrived in Paducah last evening.

Attorney John G. Miller went to Princeton today at noon on business.

Rheumatism

Is Not a Skin Disease.

Most people have an idea that rheumatism is contracted like a cold, that the damp, chilly air penetrates the muscles and joints and causes the terrible aches and pains, or that it is something like a skin disease to be rubbed away with liniment or drawn out with plasters; but Rheumatism originates in the blood and is caused by Urea, or Uric Acid, an irritating, corroding poison that settles in muscles, joints and nerves, producing inflammation and soreness and the sharp, cutting pains peculiar to this distressing disease.

Exposure to bad weather or sudden chilling of the body will hasten an attack of Rheumatism after the blood and system are in the right condition for it to develop, but have nothing to do with the real true causes of Rheumatism, which are internal and not external.

Liniments, plasters and rubbing will sometimes reduce the inflammation and swelling and ease the pain for a time, but fail to relieve permanently because they do not reach the seat of the trouble. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism because it attacks it in the blood, and the Uric Acid poison is neutralized, the sluggish circulation stimulated and quickened, and soon the system is purified and cleansed, the aching muscles and joints are relieved of all irritating matter and a lasting cure of this most painful disease is effected.

S. S. S. is a harmless vegetable remedy, unequalled as a blood purifier and an invigorating, pleasant tonic. Book on Rheumatism will be mailed free.

The Moore house

of the house. In another moment the rich peal of an organ sounded from within, followed by the prolonged howling of Rudge, who, either from a too keen appreciation of his master's music or in utter disapproval of it—no one, I believe, has ever been able to make out which—was accustomed to add this undesirable accompaniment to every strain from the old man's hand. The playing did not cease because of these outrageous discords. On the contrary, it increased in force and volume, causing Rudge's expression of pain or pleasure to increase also. The result can be imagined. As I listened to the intolerable howls of the dog cutting clean through the exquisite harmonies of his master I wondered if the shadows cast by the frowning structure of the great Moore house were alone to blame for Uncle David's lack of neighbors.

Meantime Hibbard, who was the first to bear my signal, came running down the block. As he joined me the light, or what we chose to call a light, appeared in the window toward which my attention had been directed.

"Some one's in the Moore house!" I declared. In as matter of fact tones as I could command.

Hibbard is a big fellow, the biggest fellow on the force, and, so far as my own experience with him had gone, as stolid and imperturbable as the best of us. But after a quick glance at the towering walls of the lonely building he showed decided embarrassment and seemed in no haste to cross the street. With difficulty I concealed my

"Hush!"

I had just heard something.

For a moment we stood breathless, but as the sound was not repeated I concluded that it was the creaking of that faraway shutter. Certainly there was nothing moving near us.

"Shall we go upstairs?" whispered Hibbard.

"Not till we have made sure that all is right down here."

A door stood slightly ajar on our left.

Pushing it open, we looked in. A well furnished parlor was before us.

"Here's where the wedding took place," remarked Hibbard, straining his head over my shoulder.

There were signs of this wedding on every side. Walls and ceilings had been hung with garlands, and these still clung to the mantelpiece and over and around the various doorways. The clock occupying the center of the mantelpiece alone gave evidence of life. It had been wound for the wedding and had not yet run down. Its tick-tick came faint enough, however, through the darkness, as if it, too, had lost heart and would soon lapse into the deadly quiet of its ghostly surroundings.

"It's—it's funeral-like," chattered Hibbard.

He was right; I felt as if I were shutting the lid of a coffin when I finally closed the door.

Our next steps took us into the rear, where we found little to detain us, and then, with a certain dread fully justified by the event, we made for the door defined by the two Corinthian columns.

It was ajar like the rest, and, call me coward or call me fool—I have called Hibbard both, you will remember—I found that it cost me an effort to lay my hand on its mahogany panels.

Danger, if danger there was, lurked here, and while I had never known myself to quail before any ordinary antagonist, I, like others of my kind, have no especial fondness for unseen and mysterious perils.

Hibbard, who up to this point had followed me almost too closely, now accorded me all the room that was necessary. It was with a sense of entering upon the scene that I finally thrust wide the door and crossed the threshold of this redoubtable room where, but two short weeks before, a fresh victim had been added to the list of those who had by some unheard-of, unimaginable means found their death within its recesses.

My first glance showed me little save the ponderous outlines of an old settle, which jutted from the corner of the fireplace half way out into the room. As it was seemingly from this seat that the men, who at various times had been found lying here, had fallen to their doom, a thrill passed over me as I noted its unwieldy bulk and the deep shadow it threw on the ancient and dishonored hearthstone. To escape the ghastly memories it evoked and also to satisfy myself that the room was really as empty as it seemed, I took another step forward. This caused the light from the lantern I carried to spread beyond the point on which it had hitherto been so effectively concentrated, but the result was to emphasize rather than detract from the extreme desolation of the great room. The settle was a fixture, as I afterward found, and was almost the only article of furniture to be seen on the wide expanse of uncarpeted floor. There was a table or two in hiding somewhere amid the shadows at the other end from where I stood, and possibly some kind of stool or settee, but the general impression made upon me was that of a completely dismantled place given over to moth and rust.

The elegance of the heavily stuccoed ceiling, admitted to be one of the finest specimens of its kind in Washington, as well as the richness of the carvings ornamenting the mantel of Italian marble rising above the accursed hearthstone, only served to make more evident the extreme neglect into which the rest of the room had sunk. Being anything but anxious to subject myself further to its unhappy influence, and quite convinced that the place was indeed as empty as it looked, I turned to leave when my eyes fell upon something so unexpected and so extraordinary, seen as it was under the influence of the heavy fog.

"Indeed!" I laughed, sounding my whistle. Then, soberly enough, for I was more than a little struck by the oddity of his behavior and thought him as well worth investigation as the house in which he showed such an interest: "You shouldn't let that count. Come and see what's up in the house you are so ready to call yours."

But he only drew farther into the shade.

"I have no business over there," he objected. "Veronica and I have never been on good terms. I was not even invited to her wedding, though I live within a stone's throw of the door. No; I have done my duty in calling attention to that light, and whether it's the bellows of a burglar—perhaps you don't know that there are rare treasures on the bookshelves of the great library—or whether it is the fantastic illumination which frightens fool folks and some fool dogs, I'm done with it and done with you, too, for tonight."

As he said this he mounted to his door and disappeared under the vines, hanging like a shroud over the front porch.

"Indeed!" I laughed, sounding my whistle again.

"I always catch cold when I walk barefooted," mumbled my brave companion; but receiving no reply, he drew off his shoes and dropped them beside mine in the cluster of stark bushes which figure so prominently in the newspaper illustrations that have lately appeared. Then he took out his revolver, and, cocking it, stood waiting, while I gave a cautious push to the door.

"Darkness! Silence!

Rather had I confronted a light and heard some noise, even if it had been the ominous click to which we are so well accustomed. Hibbard seemed to share my feelings, though from an entirely different cause.

"Pistols and lanterns are no good here," he grumbled. "What we want at this blessed minute is a priest with a sprinkling of holy water; and I for one."

He was actually sliding off.

With a smothered oath I drew him back.

"See here!" I cried, "you're not a babe in arms. Come on or—Well, what now?"

He had clinched my arm and was pointing to the door which was slowly swaying to behind us.

"Notice that," he whispered. "No key in the lock! Men use keys, but—"

My patience could stand no more. With a shake I rid myself of his clutch, muttering:

"There, go! You're too much of a fool for me. I'm in for it alone." And in proof of my determination I turned the slide of the lantern and dashed the light through the house.

The effect was ghostly; but while the fellow at my side breathed hard, he did not take advantage of my words to make his escape, as I half expected him to. The truth is, I was startled myself, but I was able to hide the fact and to whisper back to him fiercely:

"Hush!"

I had just heard something.

For a moment we stood breathless, but as the sound was not repeated I concluded that it was the creaking of that faraway shutter. Certainly there was nothing moving near us.

"Shall we go upstairs?" whispered Hibbard.

"Not till we have made sure that all is right down here."

MAY KEEP BOTH

Possible Alderman Durrett Will Not Resign.

Mayor Yeiser Thinks That He Can Hold Both Jobs.

Alderman Lucian Durrett, who was a short time ago elected or appointed to the position of assistant superintendent of the city electric light plant, may retain both his position in the aldermanic board and at the city power house.

Alderman Durrett states that he is simply engineer at the city power house and that the city has created no office for him. He is working every night at the big engine and expressed his inclination to continue and from what can be learned at the city hall, he will not have to resign his position in the aldermanic board and at the city power house.

Mayor Yeiser was asked this morning what he thought Mr. Durrett would do. Mayor Yeiser stated he had not heard Mr. Durrett say anything about his plans, but it was his opinion that Mr. Durrett did not have the right to resign his position as an alderman and could act as engineer at the city light plant and serve the city on the executive board also.

It is understood that this matter is being considered by Mr. Durrett who will first definitely decide if he has to resign as an alderman, and if he does not will retain both positions.

SOME HAS BEENS

WHERE BASEBALL STARS OF OTHER YEARS ARE FOUND.

"It's pretty hard to find a minor league nowadays," says Fred Pfeffer, a well known baseball man, "without finding a lot of ex-major leaguers in it—men who are in a has been row, or men who had a trial in the fast company, and then fell out, never to return. It's rather pathetic, to listen to one of these fellows as he tells how he was in the big league getting $500 a month, when you know the poor devil is now getting $90 and glad to gather it regularly."

"I was looking through a baseball guide the other day, and here's a few of the names I found, in leagues not as high as the Eastern or American Association, which pay decent money, or the California, which is very liberal, but little leagues which cannot give much money."

"Southern League—Breitenstein, once the star of the St. Louis pitching staff Red Ehret, another veteran of fame; Frank Killen, also an old time wonder; Zeke Wilson, long with Cleveland; Stockdale who was with Washington, Heghey, with Chicago long ago; Harry Vaughan, so many years with Louisville; Lew Whistler and Perry Wherdon, old time first baseman; good old Cupid Childs, Tom Parrott, Sam Duncan, Charlie Miller and Bob Gilkes, all big league stars of the past."

"New England League—Billy Hamilton, the fastest player who ever flashed the spikes along the base line; Jack Carney, Fred Lake, Merritt, who caught for Anson; Butser Burrell, Fred Kloboden, Tommy Dowd, now all to the bad as compared with what he used to be."

"Connecticut League—Jim O'Rourke, Roger Conner; Tuck Turner, who was such a bitter ten years ago."

"New York State League—Howard Earle, 'Count' Campan."

"Cotton States League—Billy Earle, the globe trotter."

"Northern League—Hoffmeister, once a Pittsburg favorite."

"And there are others. But why stir up the dry bones any more?"

A GREAT RACE.

REPORT OF THE TIME MADE BY THE DUKE OF ORLEANS.

The Cincinnati Enquirer says: "Although wonderful improvements have been made in the construction of steamboats and naval machinery, yet the records established by the river greyhounds in ante-bellum days still remain unbroken. On the levee yesterday there developed from a discussion among river men, the fact that away back in 1844 a record trip between New Orleans and Cincinnati was made by the steamer Duke of Orleans, one of the fastest crafts of those halcyon days. She made the trip between the cities in five days and eighteen hours. Upon exhibition in the office of one of the packet companies the Duke of Orleans' roster and log. Her officers were C. R. Sedam, master; Thomas L. Richardson, mate; Isaac West, chief engineer. As fuel the Duke carried 36 cords of pine, 35 cords of cotton and cypress wood, 200 bushels of coal and 35 pounds of rosin. She left the Crescent City Sunday, May 26, at 11:20 a. m. Her log gives the time that was consumed in wooding and landing and also states that one hour was lost in canal at Louisville. Her engines worked perfectly, her crew was enthusiastic and the boat fairly flew at times. Captain Mason, of the sidewheeler Reserve, or Constitution, decided to race the Duke from Evansville to Louisville, and took on several barrels of rosin. When the Duke hove in sight the race was on, but the New Orleans boat passed the reserve as easily as if the latter vessel had been anchored. The Reserve did not again get in sight of the Duke until the latter was going out of the canal."

LOSES AN EYE.

Mr. Jack Cole, who is associated with Contractor William Karnes, yesterday afternoon met with an accident which cost him the sight of his left eye. He was driving a nail when the head flew off and struck in the eye ball. He went to a specialist who had to cut the obstacle out. The sight of the eye is permanently destroyed and it is undecided whether the ball will have to be removed or not. Mr. Cole's many friends will regret to learn of the accident."

Complete information as to rates, schedules, etc., will be gladly furnished on application to C. H. Hungerford, D. P. A. Southern railway, 234 Fourth Avenue, Louisville, Ky.
